

“Waterwise”

– enjoy the summer but save water!

Midsummer is here and the summer holiday with it. During this period the water consumption increases and here is an invitation to be waterwise this summer!

During the past year, the precipitation has been extremely low in our region and the groundwater levels has gone down to historically low levels. However the water will suffice for all if we do a bit like the camels and economize the water. Every little change you can do is valuable.

Many clever saving tips on:

We also want to inform you that Torsås municipality has adopted a ban on watering until further notice. This means that it is prohibited to use municipal water for watering of lawns, flower beds etc with eater hose or sprinkler.

With this we wish you a happy Midsummer
